"THE 51 PERCENT" TOOK PART IN THE WOMEN'S FORUM TO MARK ITS 10th ANNIVERSARY

To mark its 10th anniversary, "The 51 percent" took part in the Women's Forum on November 28th and 29th at the Palais Brongniart in Paris, in partnership with France Médias Monde. On Tuesday November 28th, from 1:30 to 2:10 pm*, Laure Manent, Annette Young, Mayssaloun Nassar, Angéla Gomez and Virginie Herz, former French language presenter, spoke in a debate:

Why Is It So Tough to Cover 'The 51 Percent?': The need for gender journalism. In 2023, many media players are still a long way from gender parity in news and current affairs coverage. So what constructive steps still need to be taken to correct this gap? How to develop content policies designed to generate engaging stories that include women's voices and faces along with the mitigation of discrimination? What does it mean for the viewer? Extracts from this debate will be broadcast as part of the special show for the anniversary.

Launched in 2013, "The 51 Percent", France 24's pioneering show focusing on gender equality, has broadcast many special editions from across the globe about those working hard to promote women's rights:
